How Can IADD Membership Benefit Attorneys?

The fee for Associate Members, including Attorneys is $100 per year and it includes the following benefits:

- ◆ A listing in our Business Directory that is given to all IADD members and is available at various educational events and tradeshows reaching over 3,500 contacts. The Business Directory can also be found on our website.
- ◆ 4 Newsletters per year containing important information and drainage updates.
- ◆ Discounted fee for our Annual Conference.
- ◆ Access to a network of Attorneys that have experience working with Drainage Districts. Since Drainage clients represent a small niche of an Attorney's clientele, it is helpful to have others to discuss strategies with as there can be many challenges when working with Drainage Districts.

Improving Land and Water Management by Sharing Information and Ideas.....

The Illinois Association of Drainage Districts was formed back in 1995 thanks to the diligence of several concerned drainage commissioners, contractors and attorneys. They have forged the path, but there is always an uphill climb and for that, we need your support along with the support of all drainage districts in Illinois!

"Membership in IADD has several benefits. The IADD newsletters provide information on developments in the field of drainage law generally and specifically as to drainage districts. Contacts with IADD have resulted in this office representing districts solely because of membership in IADD."

- Robert C. Grierson
Craig & Craig, LLC
Mattoon, IL

"As an attorney, I believe that IADD membership is imperative because frankly, without them, I wouldn't be able to keep up with the legislation that effects drainage law or farmers. They are a great resource for those just starting out and the information that they provide in their quarterly newsletters such as EPA updates, tile news and engineering information is invaluable. They also serve as the voice of drainage commissioners by lobbying in Springfield which is incredibly important."

- Jennifer Simutis

"IADD has as its purpose and mission to educate those interested in drainage, drainage techniques and drainage districts and to protect the Illinois Drainage Code from changes that will adversely affect best drainage practices. IADD provides the best networking experiences that a drainage commissioner could ever find. This is how you learn, listening to the stories of others. The Illinois Drainage Code does not answer every question that a drainage commissioner gets confronted with. There are lots of gray areas and lots of local politics in the operation of the district."
